Cornell 10—Pennsylvania 10

In one of their most thrilling games in years, Cornell and Pennsylvania battled to a 10-10 tie. Early in the first period Cornell blocked a Pennsylvania punt, then by a spectacular pass went from midfield to the 17-yard line, and from there Molinet rushed to a touchdown. In the third period, Cornell recovered a Pennsylvania fumble, deep in the Red and Blue territory. The Quaker line held and Captain Carey kicked a field goal. The last quarter opened with a sensational 65-yard run to a touchdown by Wascolonis of Pennsylvania. Apparently on the way to a second touchdown, the Quakers were thrown for losses, but evened the score with a field goal by Scull. After this both teams attempted to score by the air. Intercepted passes, fumbles, and blocked kicks raised the hopes of the spectators but kept the points even.

PRICE 12 CENTS

EVERYONE has a right to his own valuation of the news. If for instance he chanced to get married on November 11, 1918, the item of the Armistice was to him inside-page stuff, bottom-of-column.

It is therefore with some diffidence that this historian of his own times would record as the most important bit of news of this week or of many the opening of an art exhibition in Morse Hall. Two rooms have been made over for this purpose; the large one, occupying the whole west end of the building, has been fitted with a sky-light, and the walls have been done a pleasant cream-color. In these genial surroundings hang twenty-one paintings by such eminent artists as Elliott Daingerfield, John Costigan, Leopold Seyffert, Hobart Nichols, Paul Dougherty, and Eugene F. Savage. These are loaned by the Grand Central Gallery of New York. In an adjoining room are displayed twenty-five etchings by Millet, Rembrandt, Dürer, Seymour Hayden, Whistler, and others. The Frank H. Bresler Company of Milwaukee has courteously permitted the exhibition of the etchings. Dean Bosworth of the College of Architecture, and Professors Brauner and Schuchardt of the same college make up the committee in charge.

THE ATTENDANT in charge reports that over a thousand persons have visited the exhibit during its first week. This large manifestation of interest must be heartening to the committee, and must confound those gloomy elders who believe that esthetic appreciation has been vouchsafed to none junior to themselves. George Moore describes somewhere his young contemporaries as "tortured by Art and Sex." The youth of today, so some aver, is tortured chiefly by problems of automotive design.

BUT YOUTH still seems to be interested in Art. And those aging dealers in the Humanities who proclaim the importance of art in life have every reason to be grateful to the Committee which has demonstrated to the student that art did not die with Phidias, nor with Michael Angelo, nor even with Rodin.

THE WEEK has resounded with the appeals of the Community Chest to Ithaca's citizens and with those of the C. U. C. A. to the students. The Community Chest, setting itself a goal of $69,425, had by Saturday noon reached a total of $49,235 in subscriptions. This seems very good for a town which, like Ithaca, possesses few citizens of more than moderate wealth. Division 5, which covers the Faculty, had at the same hour pledged $14,963.50, or 90 per cent of its quota. This sum represents the pledges of 730 persons, with an average subscription of $20.49. The Faculty division came nearer to its quota and had a larger total subscription than any of its rivals in the business section. The Faculty is sometimes reproached for holding aloof from community affairs. Certainly in this case it has given proof of solidarity with the rest of Ithaca's citizenship. And when one reflects upon the prevailing salary scale on the Hill, one might sardonically conclude that there isn't much use in giving the teachers more money, if they go right ahead and give it away again.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB gave its first major production of the year last week, with the presentation of "Right You Are (If You Think So)" by Luigi Pirandello. It was the first time this work of the Italian dramatist has been performed in this country. Attending as guests were the delegates to the Convention of Women's Dramatic Clubs, which was meeting at Elmira over the week-end. Elizabeth Goepp '27 of Philadelphia, vice-president of the Dramatic Club, was the delegate from Cornell.

VACANCIES on the Board of Managers of Willard Straight Hall have been filled by the election of Servillano C. Yuson '27 of Gapan, Nueva Ecija, P. I., and James M. Veeder '28 of Pittsburgh. The appointment of Professor Martin W. Sampson and Elias R. B. Willis '14 to the Library Committee, and of J. Tudor Bowen '28 to the Activities Committee, has also been announced.

A TABLET in memory of the late George B. Turner '75 of Auburn, for fifty-three years active in Chi Psi, was unveiled at the Chapter House on November 14. President Farrand delivered an address to the 150 members who were present, on the function of the fraternity in the university, and John W. Anderson of Detroit, national president of Chi Psi, spoke on Judge Turner's life and his devotion to the perpetuation of his fraternity ideals. Frank Matthiessen '95, on behalf of the alumni, presented the memorial plaque to the Lodge. Jerome D. Barnum '12 was chairman of the meeting.

ON THE EVENING of the Dartmouth game members of Psi Upsilon gathered from many points near and far to celebrate the fulfillment of fifty years of devoted service by Edward Newton, as janitor, valet, and general handy man at the Chapter House. As a tribute to him, alumni have contributed a fund known as the Edward Newton Endowment Fund, of at least $20,000, the income of which will go to Edward Newton or to his wife during their lifetime. Thereafter it will be used for Chapter purposes of some worthy nature. Charles H. Blair '98 made the presentation speech. More alumni were present than have been in Ithaca since the time of the Semi-Centennial, and Mr. Newton received also scores of congratulatory telegrams.

WITH THE WEATHER reports saying "snow and colder" the Department of Floriculture opened the Cornell Flower Show, held Friday and Saturday of last week. Several of the leading growers of the East exhibited old and new varieties of roses, carnations, chrysanthemums, and orchids, and there were shown competitive exhibits by students of corsages, baskets, Japanese arrangements, and berried shrubs. The flowers' residence is steam heated.

THE ANNUAL RECEPTION to the Faculty given by the Dean of Women, the wardens of Sage and Prudence Risley, and the women of the senior class was held at Sage College on November 16. Miss Marjorie Candee, accompanied by Mrs. Othon G. Guerlac, sang a number of French, German, and English songs.

TREMAN TRIANGLE is the name of the new park at the foot of Cascadilla Gorge which was given by Robert H. Treman '78 to the University. It was so named by the Board of Trustees in appreciation of the gift, and because of Mr. Treman's interest in preserving the natural landscape beauties of the Campus and surrounding region.

A MENTAL Travel Diary was the subject of a talk given by Professor George E. G. Catlin '24 at the Sunday evening hour in Willard Straight Hall this week. He spoke on his philosophy of friendship, gained before, during, and after the War, in the British Civil Service and in English and American universities.

THE CORNELL Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, was named one of the ten best in relations with the national office, it was announced at the twelfth annual convention held at the University of Wisconsin last week. William M. Smartt '27 of Nashville, Tenn., and William J. Waters '27 of Poughkeepsie were the Cornell representatives. Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, who was elected national honorary president, told of some of the experiences he had when a student at Indiana University. Professor Martin W. Sampson being then his English professor. Professor Bristow Adams was made a member of the national executive council,

Fifty Years of Service

Edward Newton's Fidelity to Psi Upsilon Men is Honored

Over fifty alumni of Psi Upsilon gathered together on the evening after the Dartmouth game to celebrate the fulfillment of fifty years of service of Edward Newton, who has been with the fraternity in the capacity of janitor, valet, and general handy man for half a century.

In commemoration of his long, devoted service the alumni have contributed to a fund which will total at least $20,000, to be known as the Edward Newton Endowment Fund. The income will go to Edward Newton or Mrs. Newton during their lifetimes, and thereafter the principal will remain as a permanent endowment.

The presentation speech was made by Charles H. Blair '97 as president of the Psi Upsilon Alumni Association, who said in part:

"This chapter was established by the Executive Council in June, 1876, and a few months later a young man came to serve its members, first, as a waiter at their private table in Sage College, and almost immediately thereafter as the janitor, valet, and generally handy man in the Chapter House.

"Because I was an Ithaca boy and because my father was a Psi U and closely identified with the chapter in its early days, it has been my great good fortune to know this man more intimately perhaps than most of you. For half a century he has been with our chapter, ushering in each succeeding class, serving them through that careless, happy period which makes up the years of college life. He has, during that time, served the chapter through recurring periods of prosperity and depression and only with the greatest faith in human nature and a true understanding of the really high ideals of our Psi U brotherhood could such service have been rendered. Such faith and understanding have been his from the beginning.

"Today, as always, he stands in this community as one of its most respected citizens. In this household he stands as an honored and beloved servant whose integrity, loyalty, and steadfastness of purpose have been a fine example to us all. The purpose of the meeting tonight, Edward Newton, is to try and show you our appreciation of all that you have done, and you have done much to help keep this chapter of Psi U in the front rank of the fraternities of Cornell. Your life has been an inspiration to us. We would all be proud if our sons could be men of your character.

"Knowing of your love for this Chapter and of your desire for its happy and successful future, and at the same time desiring that your remaining years be made as happy and as free from care as possible, we have all of us contributed to a fund to be called the Edward Newton

Endowment Fund, the income from which will go to you or your wife as long as either of you shall live, and thereafter, the principal fund will remain intact under your name as a permanent endowment fund for all time, the income from which will be used only for such Chapter purposes as we know would meet with your approval. We want you to feel that you and you alone have left this endowment to the Chi. It comes into being because of your inspiration and because all of us having been made happier and better by knowing you, want your name and the splendid record of your unselfish service to be perpetuated forever."

There were more Psi U alumni present on this occasion than have met in Ithaca since the time of the Semi-Centennial. In addition to the personal congratulations of these men, Mr. Newton received scores of telegrams from members of the chapter all over the country, who were unable to attend but wished to tell him of their affectionate regard.

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB presented another of its regular concerts last week, at the home of Professor Irving P. Church '73. Mrs. Doris Nichols Holmes was the pianist, and Professor George F. Bason '16, accompanied by Mrs. Frederick G. Switzer, was the baritone soloist.

Treman Triangle

Trustees Name the Park at the Foot of Cascadilla Gorge—Committee on Landscape

The Board of Trustees on November 13 adopted two resolutions indicative of present and future concern for the preserving of landscape beauty on and around the Campus. The name Treman Triangle was given to an attractive new park at the foot of Cascadilla Gorge, near the Christian Science Church. The Board created a standing Committee on Landscape.

Treman Triangle was so named in appreciation of Trustee and Mrs. Robert H. Treman's gift of the land for the park and of their interest in saving the natural beauties of Ithaca and its environs.

The new committee on landscape was formed by dividing the Committee on Buildings and Grounds into two groups, one to deal with landscape and the other with buildings and utilities. Robert H. Treman '78 was added to the committee as chairman of the landscape division. Such a reorganization was the wish of Col. Henry W. Sackett '75, who has been making munificent provision for landscape work on the campus, including the restoration of the gorges. Besides trustees Treman and Sackett, the landscape committee includes President Farrand and J. Du Pratt White '90, who is the chairman of the whole Committee on Buildings and Grounds.

Situated at the foot of Cascadilla Gorge, Treman Triangle affords both an approach to the gorge and a highly pleasing view of waterfall and cliffs. This view from Linn Street and Court (formerly Mill) Street was hidden by ugly frame buildings until Mr. and Mrs. Treman bought the land and cleared away the obstruction. The waterfall is the scenic feature of the park, which has, in the last few months, been laid out and planted mainly to the end of enhancing that view.

In the triangle proper there is a ground cover of myrtle and pachasandra, chosen for their permanent green, and a planting of dwarf evergreens. Along the sides have been planted trees which will grow high enough to screen the buildings on either side and to form a permanent background. All this planting is designed to be a frame for the picture of waterfall and rocky gorge.

Two paths from Linn Street converge at a footbridge and from there a path leads up the north bank of the creek under the cliff. It is planned eventually to make the whole gorge accessible by footpaths from Treman Triangle all the way up to the Campus.

The cost of labor and material for this work is covered by gifts from Colonel Sackett. In both Cascadilla and Fall Creek gorges, thanks to his generous provision of funds, the work of removing rubbish, reforestation, opening of vistas, and building of footpaths is now in progress

THE WAR MEMORIAL AT CORNELL UNIVERSITY

OF SIGNIFICANT IMPORTANCE

THE INTERESTING SUPPLEMENT HEREWITH CONTAINS A CHRONOLOGY OF AMERICA AND CORNELL IN THE WORLD WAR, AND ALSO A LIST OF THE NAMES BY CLASSES, OF THE TWO HUNDRED THIRTY-SEVEN CORNELL MEN WHO MADE THE SUPREME SACRIFICE.

Vale atque Ave

By H. W. VAN LOON, '05

They are going.

And there is something very fine about the quiet way in which these boys have taken to their unpleasant task. . . There has not been any enthusiasm. . . That was right. . . A war like this does not ask for words but for silent deeds. . . Our boys seem to understand it. . . At odd moments they drop into the office. . . There is very little talk.

"Going away?"

"Yes, sir."

"Army or Navy?"

"I don't know yet. I called up my people on the long-distance phone last night. They said it was all right. So I am going to New York tonight and then home to say good-bye."

"Want to go?"

"Not particularly. But I suppose it is the only thing to do."

And that is all.

They are going, and many of them never will come back. The pleasant life of mediocre endeavor has come to an end. To be sure we had never looked at them in the light of heroes. They were nice, lovable fellows. Their outlook upon life was simplicity itself. Graduation and a job. Then, after a few years, another job, a little higher up. Finally a home of their own and some nice girl to be their wife and a few babies and a car and two weeks' vacation to go hunting and fishing. Here and there a man with a hobby or the ambition to do, or write, or build, or achieve some particular purpose.

To most of them, however, life meant a cheerful gift to be enjoyed as the faithful days come along. There was no searching for hidden motives or for an ulterior purpose. The amiable Divinity of Things-as-they-are ruled their realm. They accepted whatever came with a smile, and they did not ask questions.

And now, without a word of warning, they have been asked to face the Invisible Mystery. There was no complaint. They packed their trunks and God bless them.

They are going.

Thus far they have been my students. But now, in a humble fashion I am grateful that I have been their teacher.

Chronology of America and Cornell in the World War

SIX thousand eight hundred and fifty Cornellians were everywhere and did everything in the World War. Two hundred and thirty-seven of them never came back.

It is to these heroes that Cornell proposes to erect a beautiful War Memorial. The chronology which follows is a vivid account of the activities of Cornell men in the War.—It is a proof positive of the big part Cornell played.

No War Memorial can be too beautiful to represent adequately the record of Cornell in the World War, for it is a record of success in which Cornell and Cornellians are inseparably united.

Cornell's Record in the World War is Distinctive

It includes innumerable accounts of bravery in many branches of service.

It is replete with accounts of heroic encounter and sacrifice. The most distinctive thing of all, however, is that the very first American unit to go into action officially under the American flag in the World War, was a Cornell group. It was under the command of a Cornell man that the first American detachment, composed for the most part of Cornell men, on the 24th of May, 1917, carried the Stars and Stripes to the battle-front in France.

The Cornell War Memorial

CORNELL is definitely planning an adequate perpetuation of the names and deeds of her sons who gave themselves to their country. Where Cornellians received their preparation for life, Cornell is to erect a War Memorial, strikingly suitable, artistic, and serviceable. The memorial selected is in the form of two high towers connected by a cloister. The towers will face West Avenue on the middle axis of the entire group of University buildings. Looking East, the Library Tower will appear as the culminating point of interest in the vista. Looking Northwest, will be an unobstructed view of Lake Cayuga and the hills beyond.

The War Memorial is to cost $250,000. This sum is to be raised through the subscriptions of those alumni, parents, and friends of Cornell men who died in service, who desire to participate in erecting this permanent memorial to Cornell's War heroes.

If you are interested in this admirable project, or if you have any suggestions or criticisms to make, you are cordially invited to get in touch with Robert E. Treman, Chairman of the Cornell War Memorial Committee, Ithaca, N. Y.

on a large scale. Professor E. Gorton Davis is directing the landscape work in the gorges with an advisory committee whose function is to conserve their usefulness for biological and geological field work. The committee consists of Professors Karl M. Wiegand '94 in botany, Samuel N. Spring in silviculture, Ralph W. Curtis '01 in ornamental horticulture, Herbert H. Whetzel '02-4 Grad., in plant pathology, Albert H. Wright '04 in zoology, and Oscar D. von Engeln '08 in geology.

LAW ASSOCIATION MEETS

The annual meeting of the Cornell Law Association was held in Ithaca on November 13, with the president, William L. Ransom '05, in the chair. He reviewed the work of the year, particularly the publication of the law list with the names and addresses of all members. He announced that the number of scholarships given for the Law College had been increased during the year from four to ten.

The donors and the recipients for this year are: the Law Association to Clifford C. Pratt of Elmira; William L. Ransom '05 to Robert W. Ready '28 of Burlington, Vt.; the Cornell Alumni of Syracuse to Thomas G. Rickert '27 of Niagara Falls; Edwin J. Marshall '94 to Edward J. Elliott '28 of West New Brighton; Justice Cuthbert W. Pound '87 to Samuel Mezansky '27 of Poughkeepsie; Waldo F. Tobey '95 to Alfred Appel '28 of New York; the Cornell Club of Philadelphia to Ezra Cornell '27 of New Haven, Conn.; Cornell Lawyers of Nassau County, to Anthony A. Goerner '27 of New York; and two scholarships not yet awarded given by Carlos Lazo '18, and by a group of Cleveland alumni, Roger Hyatt '13, William P. Belden '95, Morris S. Halliday '06, and John W. Reavis '21.

Judge Frank H. Hiscock '75 retires in December as Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals and the remainder of the meeting was held in his honor. Justice Leonard C. Crouch '89, of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, gave the annual address, "The Tendencies of the Court of Appeals during the Incumbency of Chief Justice Hiscock." He closed with a high tribute to Judge Hiscock. The address will be published in The Cornell Law Quarterly.

This testimonial was especially fitting because of the great attainments of Judge Hiscock, and because of his interest in the Law College and the Association. He responded to the tribute in a short, informal speech.

THE FACULTY has changed the dates of the Christmas recess from December 22 until January 5, to December 18 until January 3, thereby squeezing in two extra days and, more important, three week-ends, which, according to many recent Sun editorials, seem to be the most favored vacation days.

SPORT STUFF

Undergraduate criticism finds its expression in indictments. Analysis is rare. Commendation is not used.

The Sun, which started the year in an amiable mood, has apparently become embittered by the evils which it finds. Each morning with the coffee comes one more true bill against another dear friend. The score follows:

The Police.....	6
Charles E. Curtis, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.....	3
The College of Arts and Sciences.....	8
Mussolini.....	4
David Fletcher Hoy.....	1
Athletics.....	9
Lloyd George.....	2
The Band.....	3
The Republican Party.....	4
Scattering.....	7

College journalism of the present day bears the same relation to undergraduate life and opinion that the American Mercury bears to national life and thought. One enjoys it up to the point where one's own particular altars are defiled.

I can get a grin out of everything except the attacks on the College of Arts. That's going too far.

The College of Arts is a great institution. I feel toward it as I do toward the League of Nations. I wish America would join it and not leave it's advantages to be enjoyed exclusively by the other nations.

PROFESSOR SAMUEL N. SPRING was one of the principal speakers at the National Forest Protection Conference, held in Syracuse recently.

PROFESSOR CARL E. LADD '12 spoke at the annual convention of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation held in Syracuse on November 9. Professor Ladd after speaking of the abandonment of farms, told of the need for reforestation, but said that so much farm land has been left idle that it would take one hundred years to start the trees to plant it. In spite of the abandonment of over a million acres in five years, production has not fallen off, proving the greater efficiency and better use of the richer land in use.

THE COMPTROLLER'S REPORT

The complete report of Comptroller Bostwick fills 139 pages and gives much interesting information about the physical equipment of the University.

The productive funds have increased from $20,225,817.54 to $20,970,886.37, an increase of $745,068.83. In real estate and equipment there has been a gain over the previous year of $1,473,957.19. The rate of interest received on the funds was nearly 5.43 per cent, an increase of about .0168 per cent.

The Cornelian Council collected and paid over during the year $290,100.58, an increase of $130,076.18 over the previous year; its recorded expenses were $41,565.98

The endowed colleges at Ithaca ended the year with a deficit of $381,327.63. Of this $120,714.93 was chargeable to purchases of land, $78,052.23 to Baker Laboratory, and $182,560.47 to running expenses.

The Medical College in New York had a deficit of $228,682.69. This is an increase of $93,933.76 over last year.

The Veterinary College finished the year with a surplus of $1,906.70.

The Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics had a surplus of $49,610.46. The Geneva Experiment Station had a surplus of $390.50.

The total income from all sources was $6,685,176.10, of which $1,360,942.78 came from laboratory fees and tuition and $2,115,026.37 came from the State of New York (all but $28,633.69 of this going to the State colleges and the Geneva Station). The total expense was $6,631,127.56. Of this $2,229,214.50 went for salaries of instruction and research.

There are 161 special funds totaling $14,379,516.16, the income from which was $756,569.91. Listed gifts amount to $1,090,729.77.

The University land now amounts to 1530 acres. Buildings and land are valued at $10,117,457.82. Equipment is worth $3,859,344.66.

The available part of the Women Students' Loan Fund now amounts to $14,902.17; of the Guiteau Fund there is now available $1,407.57; of the Knickerbacker Fund, $1,100.42; of the Wurts Fund, $650.71; of the Agricultural Students' Fund, $1,044.79; of the Dewar Fund, $179.74.

Including all charges it cost $271,528.33 to heat the University buildings. The residential halls brought in an income of $186,547.05; expenses amounted to $157,891.41, leaving a net profit of $13,231.82. The dining halls earned $283,260.71 and spent $283,531.44, thus losing $270.73. Willard Straight Hall earned $54,741.12; the expense, including a reserve of $5,000 for replacements and extraordinary repairs, amounted to $53,112.09, leaving a net profit of $1,629.03. The building is estimated to have cost in the neighborhood of $1,200,000 and the equipment not less than $200,000.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Benjamin F. Kingsbury '00

Marguerite Hempstead Kingsbury died at her home in Ithaca on October 17 after a long illness. She was born in Meadville, Pa., October 28, 1876. She prepared for college in a private school and spent one year at Allegheny College; she then entered Cornell and graduated with the class of 1900, receiving the degree of Ph.B. She was greatly interested in biological science and spent one year at Cornell in graduate study with Professor Simon H. Gage '77 in embryology, and Professor John H. Comstock '74 in entomology. Her record was of high character. A summary of her work with Professor Gage was published in Science, n. s. vol. xii, under the title "Development of the Lungs in Frogs." Her work with Professor Comstock was upon the habits of solitary bees, the subject in which she remained interested during her subsequent life.

In June, 1904, she was married to Benjamin F. Kingsbury, then assistant professor of physiology. Four children were born to them, Marguerite '26, Ernest '29, Robert, and Mary.

Mrs. Kingsbury was a woman of unusual ability; her mental and spiritual poise, good judgment, and marked ability made her of great value as a social factor. Although family cares absorbed much of her energy, she never allowed her interests in science and literature to lapse; her education rendered her resourceful and kept her interests broad.

She was an officer in the Federation of Women's Clubs in Ithaca when the Community House drive was started; she worked earnestly in raising the money and her interest in this enterprise never waned. Her work as secretary of the Association of Camp Fire Girls was of so much value that the Ithaca association bears her name; she was a great help and inspiration in the nature lore achievements of the Camp Fire Girls because her own love of nature was so keen and true. As a worker in the Unitarian Church she was most helpful and reliable.

Mrs. Kingsbury's death is a loss to the community and a deep sorrow to those privileged to be near to her. Perhaps her true spirit and moral strength were never more exemplified than in the manner she bore her long and hopeless illness. Her calmness and courage as she faced death will always be a marvel and a source of strength to those who witnessed it. With the sorrow of her passing must ever be mingled gratitude that she has lived.

ANNA BOTSFORD COMSTOCK

Mrs. Lucien A. Wait '83

Mrs. Adeline Prentiss Wait died at her home in Clifton Springs, N. Y., on November 9. She was the widow of Prof. Lucien A. Wait, for many years professor of mathematics at Cornell.

She came to Cornell in 1882 as a student of natural history and in 1883 received the degree of B. S. Two years later she received an M. S. degree. Soon after, she married Professor Albert Nelson Prentiss, head of the Department of Botany from 1868 until his death in 1896. Some time after his death, she was married a second time to Professor Wait. She was buried in the City Cemetery in Ithaca beside her first husband.

Willet L. Ward '90

Willet Lyon Ward died suddenly of complications arising from a severe cold, at his home in Wellsville, N. Y., on November 11.

He was born in Wellsville on May 10, 1869, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ward. In 1886 he entered Cornell as a student in philosophy and was graduated in 1890 with the degree of Ph. B. Later he studied law, was admitted to the New York Bar, and practiced for a short time in Wellsville.

Several years ago, Ward was appointed district superintendent of schools in the fifth district of Allegheny County, and had been engaged in school work since. He was married on November 17, 1897 to Miss Myra E. Leonard, who survives him with five daughters, Mrs. V. J. Williams of Hazelton, Pa., Mrs. R. M. Brown of Richburg, N. Y., and the Misses Margaret, Elinor, and Saxone Ward. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. D. A. Crouner and Mrs. George Nichols of Columbus, Ohio.

Elmer J. Bailey '09

Rev. Elmer James Bailey died at a hospital in Newburyport, Mass., on October 25, after an illness of about four months.

He was born in Rochester on May 19, 1870, the son of Lieut. Wells S. and Mary Jane Elton Bailey. After graduation from the University of Rochester with the degree of Ph. B. in 1894, he taught English in secondary schools. While teaching in the Utica Free Academy he took the degree of A. M. at Hamilton in 1905. That year he came to Ithaca as teacher of English in the High School. He received the degree of Ph. D. from Cornell in 1909, his thesis being on "The Novels of George Meredith." He was an instructor in English in Cornell for seven years, going from here to the Pennsylvania College for Women at Pittsburgh as assistant professor of English. Later he went over to the University of Pittsburgh, and while there served one year as exchange professor at Harvard. In 1924 he became professor of English at Sweet Briar College, and held this chair at the time of his death.

For many years Bailey had been interested in church work. While in Ithaca he assisted in the work of St. John's Church, and in Utica in 1912 he was ordained a priest by Bishop Olmstead. At the beginning of the last summer vacation he consented to act as supply for a Cambridge, Mass., rector, and while filling this position he lived at Newburyport.

He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Besides his thesis he had written many outline helps for secondary school teachers and was also the author of "Religious Thought in the Greater American Poets," published in 1922 and reviewed in THE ALUMNI NEWS for June 22 of that year.

James E. O. Winslow '11

James Edward Oliver Winslow, one of the best known younger alumni, died suddenly at Mt. Kisco, N. Y., on November 14, as the result of an accident.

He was born in Ithaca on July 29, 1887, the son of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Winslow. He graduated from Ithaca High School and was the author of the High School "Alma Mater" which is still in use. In 1907 he entered the University and became prominent in undergraduate activities. He became a member of the Sun editorial staff and in his senior year was editor-in-chief. This was the beginning of a successful newspaper career.

He was a member of Beta Theta Pi, Sphinx Head, Book and Bowl, the Savage Club, and the Masque. With Clarence F. Hirshfeld he wrote "The Misfit Man," one of the Masque productions. He was vice-president of his senior class and after graduation became life secretary. Last year he was vice-president of the Cornell Association of Class Secretaries. He was also an active member of the Cornell Club of New York.

After graduation, he became a reporter for the Boston Traveler, and later joined the editorial staff of the New York Herald. In 1920 he became advertising manager of the Industrial Finance Corporation and more recently was with the North Westchester Publishing Company. At the time of his death he was managing editor of the Yonkers, N. Y., Statesman, and also business manager of The Theater Arts Monthly.

In the War he was an ensign and later a lieutenant in the Navy Censorship Division as director in charge of the press. He is survived by his widow and a daughter Jean; a sister, Mrs. Clarence F. Hirshfeld (Elizabeth B. Winslow '01), and a brother, John Winslow '06. Funeral services were held in Sage Chapel and interment was made in the Ithaca City Cemetery.

ATHLETICS

Beaten in Last Game

The soccer team lost the final game of the season Saturday, being defeated by Syracuse by a score of 2 to 1. The game was played at Syracuse. All three goals were scored in the first quarter. Cohen and Hughes scored for Syracuse, Thompson for Cornell.

Tennis Starts Here

Stars of the tennis world thrilled a large gallery in the Drill Hall Saturday afternoon in a series of indoor exhibition matches. Francis T. Hunter '16, one of America's ranking players defeated Manuel Alonzo in what was probably the best match of the day, by a score of 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. Hunter and Donald Strachan, protégé of William Tilden 2d, defeated Alonzo and Coach Edward Faulkner in a doubles match, 6-3, 9-7. Strachan won a single match from Faulkner 6-4.

Soccer Schedule

- Cornell 7, Hamilton 0.
- Cornell 5, Lehigh 4.
- Cornell 5, Princeton 4.
- Pennsylvania 4, Cornell 3.
- Syracuse 2, Cornell 1.

THE DELEGATE to the Mortar Board convention held at Washington University in St. Louis recently, was Ruth L. Hausner '27 of Corning.

THIS YEAR'S CROSS COUNTRY STAR

Horace Benson, sophomore member of the Cornell Cross Country Squad winning the meet with Dartmouth, 1 minute, 14 seconds ahead of the next man, also a Cornellian. In the Intercollegiates at New York on Monday, November 22, Benson finished fourth.

LANDSCAPE

THANKS to Colonel Sackett, the University now has an effective official agency for the preservation of its priceless natural endowment of landscape beauty. The Board of Trustees has made landscape the business of a permanent committee, and the subject will receive constant care. Useful as Colonel Sackett's services to the University have been during the quarter-century of his membership in the Board, he could hardly have done anything more sure to earn the gratitude of Cornellians of all time than his generous provision for this one thing. After a single season of intelligent restoration, the good effects can already be seen in the gorges. A good example is the half-acre now called Treman Triangle, at the foot of Cascadilla Gorge. There were two cheap buildings on the spot before Mr. and Mrs. Treman bought it, a dwelling house and a small lunch stand. From the back doors one could see a picturesque waterfall, but scarcely from the street, for the buildings cut off the view. Now anybody turning the corner of Court and Linn Streets can enjoy it. The land had some commercial value. Now that it has been rescued from commercial use and restored to nature, its value, situated as it is, is infinitely greater to the whole community and to every appreciative visitor.

COMING EVENTS

Tuesday, December 14

Lecture, Professor Ernst Jaekch. Goldwin Smith B, 8.15 p. m.

Saturday, December 18

Christmas Recess begins, 1 p. m.

AN APOLOGY TO THE PRESIDENT

Through an error last week the heading on page 99 over the abstract of the President's Report read as if the President had been short of material and had had to exaggerate to make a good story out of it. Obviously the word "Sketches" was intended rather than "Stretches," both having the same number of humps. Matters of this sort lead one to deplore the abolition of the Department of Penmanship.

THE COLLEGE WORLD

HOBART has this year 259 students and William Smith College, its adjunct for women, has 160 students.

AN INDUSTRIOUS research worker at the University of Vermont has ascertained that the cost of living there has increased eight hundred and fifty per cent in a century. In 1822 students at Burlington paid $20 tuition, $1.25 a week for board, $2 a year for a room, and $6 in fees.

PRINCETON has the largest enrollment in her history—2,348, as compared with 2,303 last year.

YALE's total funds on June 30 amounted to $45,603,713.40 as compared with $41,646,983.16 the year before. There are nearly nine hundred separate funds. Yale alumni contributed $326,586 to income and $294,034 to the principal of the endowment. In the dining halls last year 378,604 meals were served at an average cost of forty-two cents. Yale forces are now organizing to secure additional endowment of $20,000,000.

STANFORD plans to eliminate the first and second years of college work and eventually to become a graduate university.

AT COLUMBIA Professor James C. Egbert, director of extension, reports that of the fifteen thousand students enrolled in extension work, more than half are persons of mature years. The greatest number elect English and other modern languages, philosophy, history, and psychology.

LAST YEAR 335 Princeton undergraduates earned $188,321.65, an average of $562.15 each. With the help of remissions of tuition or scholarships added to the average earnings these students were helped by the university to the extent of $799.70 each. During the summer 291 undergraduates earned $143,321.

YALE's total enrollment this year is 5,157 students. In Yale College there are 1,543 and in Sheffield, 707. The Graduate School, has 669. In the Fine Arts there are 368 enrolled. The Divinity School has 220; Law, 414; Medicine, 208; Music, 110; Forestry, 42; and Nursing, 42.

FROM The Minnesota Alumni Weekly for November 13 comes the following: "The recent attack of Frank K. Moulton, senior law student and former manager of the University's employment bureau, charging that "constant violation of the Volstead Act is being carried on by students staying at rooming houses under the jurisdiction of the university," failed to make even a ripple on the calm surface of the University of Minnesota sea. Liquor violations at Minnesota are no worse now than they have been for the past few years; violations, if fluctuating at all, are on the down grade, so that the charge at this time came inopportunistly. The statement came within the councils of the Forum Literary Society and was debated by members. They favored punishing those drinkers who jeopardize the reputation of the whole student community of 10,000.

LIBRARY BOOK FUNDS

The money available in the general funds for the purchase and binding of books and periodicals for the year 1926-7 is $25,190.39. This total comprises the amounts appropriated from the estimated income from the Sage and Fiske Book Funds by the Trustees for the current year, and the accumulated balance not expended.

At the meeting of the Library Council on October 12, $16,525 was set aside for the use of the various departments in buying books for their respective fields. $4,000 was set aside for binding, and $1,000 was appropriated for the Discretionary Fund. There thus remains at the disposal of the Council for special grants the sum of $3,665.39.

The following is the estimated income from the various special funds:

Fiske Fund for Dante and Petrarch Collections.....	$ 325.78
Fiske Fund for Icelandic Collection.....	434.37
Flower Library Fund.....	597.25
Barnes Library Fund.....	2164.89
Comstock Memorial Library Fund.....	141.40
Lucy Harris Victorian Poets Fund.....	98.74
I. P. Church Memorial Fund...	198.66
Botsford Memorial Fund.....	13.84
White Warfare of Science Fund	428.89
Emil Kuichling Fund.....	299.81
Van Cleef Memorial Fund.....	950.17
Wason Chinese Fund.....	2000.00
R. A. Harris Fund.....	16.57
Schiff Fund.....	236.85
Risley Hall Library Fund.....	24.70

CLUB ACTIVITIES

New England

President Farrand is to be the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Cornell Club of New England, to be held at the New University Club in Boston on Saturday evening, December 11.

An entertaining program has been arranged by the dinner committee, headed by Frederic S. Auerbach '04. Reservations may be made through Auerbach at 6 Beacon Street, Boston.

Michigan

Professor John Brumm, of the School of Journalism at the University of Michigan, spoke at a luncheon of the Cornell Club of Michigan held on October 28. Professor Brumm's talk on "Chasing your Hat" turned out to be a humorous discourse on values and motives. He commended the man who chases his hat on a windy day as a person who is actuated by the best motives, even though his dignity does not give full assent. He praised, too, the country school teacher who stays in the country through choice, developing his own market for his wares, educating the older people to the beauties of literature and art.

At the weekly luncheon of the Cornell Club of Michigan, held at the Book-Cadillac Hotel on November 4, Mr. H. B. Tyree of the Detroit Edison Company, presented an interesting discussion of the soft coal industry.

St. Louis

In memory of George J. Tansey '88, who died on July 26, the Cornell Club of St. Louis has established the George J. Tansey Memorial Fund. The Club has raised a fund of seven hundred dollars, the income from which is to be used for the purchase of books and other material for the library of the Cornell Law School. Mr. Tansey was a man of wide and diversified tastes, with special interest in books and literature.

It is the hope of the committee that the fund may be supplemented by donations from other friends of Mr. Tansey from all over the country. One of the most active men in the country, and for ten years an Alumni Trustee, he was revered and respected by alumni of all ages.

The Club has adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, it has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to take from us our beloved friend, George Judge Tansey, and

Whereas, we, the members of the Cornell Club of St. Louis feel deeply the loss of so true and faithful a friend,

Now therefore, be it resolved that we, the Cornell Club of St. Louis, express our deep sorrow, and extend to his widow our heartfelt sympathy, and be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow, a copy to be sent to THE CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS, and a copy incorporated in the minutes of this body.

The Club presented the Cornell Cup, a trophy which annually goes to the winning high school in St. Louis for track supremacy, to Soldan High School on November 12. This is the second consecutive year that Soldan has been awarded the cup, one more victory by the school will give it permanent possession of the trophy.

Harry R. McClain '02, president of the Club, presided at the meeting, and Henry T. Ferriss '02, who was the principal speaker, told of Cornell activities. A feature of the program was the showing of two reels of moving pictures of Cornell. These reels are new, and were shown at this assembly for the first time at any Cornell club affair.

Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., '24, a former Soldan student, presented the cup to the school. While at Soldan, Tom ran the junior 440-yard dash for the school in 1919 and established a record that has not yet been broken.

The rest of the program was musical, and included songs by the Cornell Club Quartet, and the Chaminade and the Glee Club of Soldan.

Westchester County

President Livingston Farrand and Coach Jack Moakley were the guests of honor of the Cornell Club of Westchester at its meeting on October 29 at the Scarsdale Golf Club. Ninety members were present at the banquet at which County Judge William F. Bleakley '04 acted as toastmaster.

Gardiner S. Dresser '00 was elected president. At the same time the club voted to contribute a three-year cross country cup to be competed for by the school teams of Westchester County.

A low gross prize was awarded at the meeting to Reginald Marsh '06, the low net prize was won by Walter D. Postley '04, and the "Kickers' Handicap" Prize went to Louis D. Root '08.

Rochester Women

The November meeting of the Cornell Women's Club of Rochester was held on November 6, at the home of the president, Marion Fish '23, 565 Genesee Street. Among the important matters of business transacted at the meeting was the launching of a campaign this month for more active members, with Mrs. Charles W. Curtis (Stephanie Marx) '88 and Katherine Crowley '20 in charge of the campaign.

The club elected the president as delegate to the Seventh Annual Convention of the Cornell Alumni Corporation at Philadelphia, November 26 and 27. Following the business meeting, Katherine Keiper '24 recounted the events of the year she spent as an undergraduate scholar studying in France.

A RECEPTION for new students from other countries was held at Barnes Hall on the evening of November 19, by the C. U. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets and council. Professor Samuel N. Spring, Jervis Langdon, Jr., '27, Miss Virginia Francke, the new Y. W. C. A. secretary, and A. Buel Trowbridge '20 were the speakers. Amir Ali of India spoke in reply for the foreign students.

THE SAGE CHAPEL Preacher for November 21 was the Rev. John Baillie, of Auburn Theological Seminary.

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA, honorary sociological fraternity, has elected the following Professor T. F. Abel, Professor George E. G. Catlin '24, Professor Herbert J. Davenport, Emmett B. McNatt, Grad., of Aurora, Mo., Paul Titus, Grad., of Fort Wayne, Ind., R. E. Wakely, Grad., of Honesdale, Pa., Glen W. Bennett '27 of Schenectady, Raymond C. Fingado '27 of Rosebank, Eugene W. Goodwillie '27 of Chicago, Estelle Uptcher '27 of New York, Wayne E. Dorland '28 of South Orange, N. J., George H. Gibson '28 of South Hartford, Frederick W. Huntington '28 of Webster Groves, Mo., Margery I. Blar '28 of Buffalo, and J. E. Wiedenmayer '28 of Newark, N. J.

LITERARY REVIEW

Social Psychology

An Introduction to Social Psychology. By Luther L. Bernard, Acting Professor of Rural Social Organization. New York. Holt. 1926. 22.2 cm., pp. x, 651.

This is a magnificent work conceived and executed on a large scale. A work of such magnitude was undoubtedly necessary for any adequate discussion of the subject of social psychology, the content of which has now become truly voluminous; the general bibliography appended to this text fills forty-six pages.

There are thirty-seven chapters. The first four constitute an introduction, in which an attempt is made to determine what constitutes social psychology. Thirteen chapters are devoted to an exposition of the foundations of collective behavior. The next eight chapters deal with the integration of personality in the psychosocial environment. Finally, twelve chapters are used to set forth the psychosocial environment and the organization of collective behavior.

The discussion is lucid and the style is well adapted to the purpose of the author. On p. 586 we note a grammatical slip all too common in other writers: "This is one of the causes which has produced the large degree of social disorganization in our day." We must repeat the remark made about Ellwood's book in a recent review: we regret the absence of illustrations in some parts of the book; these would have greatly facilitated the progress of the layman through the work.

The author is frankly a believer in the behavioristic view of the psyche, and in the superior importance of environment over heredity in the development of the behavior of the individual. He is thus at the opposite pole from writers like Wiggam who attach much importance to heredity. The book might have been labeled The Philosophy of Behavior. It is a scientific account of how man learns to live with reference to his environment.

Some will say that this book proves too much; that if it all be true, there is no room for the individual as such; that we are all apparently mere creatures of society surrounded by the iron ring of necessity in the form of the urge to follow the patterns outlined here; and that the individual thinker may still stand up and say, "In spite of these restrictions which society places on me, I am still free and can do as I will." The answer is that while a few individuals here and there have thought themselves beyond these restrictions into freedom, most of us never get beyond the stage of responding to stimuli. Only a few real men have thus far appeared—Buddha, Socrates, Jesus, Mohammed. The rest are like the flies, whose only purpose in life seems to be to produce bigger and better flies. It is depressing and humiliating; but why not face the facts? How many of us produce even the ghost of a new and original thought once in a lustrum? How many come-outers do we know in politics or religion? We mostly conform. The simple fact which the science of society and of social psychology teaches us is that we have yet a long way to travel before we really and truly become individuals, thinking and acting independently. The goal is farther away than we had thought; evolution, which we had supposed a fait accompli, is really in its beginnings. The one far-off divine Event toward which the whole creation moves is still far away. Still, we must not murmur, neither strive nor cry. The well regulated life even of conformity is not wasted. Our personal contribution to the future, even if infinitesimal, is still that much more than zero. And by careful study of the facts, in which books like this may usefully guide us, the individual will learn to contribute more to the Person that is to be.

MAIN FEATURES OF THE INTERCOLLEGIATE
ALUMNI HOTEL MOVEMENT

Interested alumni can secure from a clerk at the desk of each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel an information leaflet which describes in detail the Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel movement.

At each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel there will be maintained a card index of the names of all the resident alumni of all the participating institutions. This will be of especial benefit to traveling alumni in locating classmates and friends.

The current issues of the alumni publications of all the participating institutions will be on file at each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel.

Reservation cards will be available at the clerk's desk in each designated hotel and at the alumni office in each college or university. These reservation cards will serve as a great convenience to travelers in securing advance accommodations.

The managers of all Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels are prepared to cooperate with individual alumni to the fullest extent and are also prepared to assist in the creation of new local alumni associations and in the development and extension of the activities of those already formed.

Christmas Buying at the Co-op

Books

We have usually published a booklet at Christmas time with the idea of answering in advance the questions of our customers. The booklet never answered all the questions and many of the questions came after December first. We are reminding you now to write. We will gladly give the table of contents of books. You are surely interested in some of the books about Cornell or by Cornellians.

Viewbooks

We can hardly speak too highly of the "Book of Views" published by the Cornellian Council. It is 12x17 in size with a well assorted collection of Campus pictures of various sizes. Truly an excellent gift at Christmas time. Only $6.50. There are smaller ones at $1.00, 50c and 25c. The twenty-five cent one has just been published.

Whitman's Campus Chocolates

We sell more of this assortment than of all the rest put together and most of it is mailed out of Ithaca. Students buy and mail it or our other customers order by mail and we mail the package. The Campus contains cream and nut centers.

Troy 1927 Calendar

We will have these ready to mail about December first at the usual price of $1.55 postage included. There are new pictures again this year and the football one will be of the Dartmouth game. The cover is a picture of the Library from the Tower road which runs east past Sage Chapel.

Some Like to Have Us Mail the Articles for Them

This is a service which we gladly perform. At the same time, we suggest that you include ten cents extra for each package to cover registration, insurance or special delivery. "Special handling" is twenty-five cents extra in the mail.
