Dear Thomas:

Thank you again for securing the filter that allows me to export an "fff" file with full jump link value from the FOLIO 3.0 material I have built.

I enclose for your use and critique my present statute prototype (Article 9 of the U.C.C.). You will observe that I have chosen a query link to connect each section heading with the official comments on that section rather than a jump link, in order to deliver just the comments on that section. My one reservation about this approach is that the list of past moves seems limited to jumps. Is that in the design or just a limitation of this beta version?

In Chicago Henry spoke of May 15 as the likely release date for the Windows product. Is that holding or do you foresee additional slippage? I shall be doing important demonstrations of our Institute publications in June and July and need to plan when before then to move our current material from 2.5 to 3.0.

Sincerely,

Peter W. Martin
