SCHOLASTIC

It has been customary in the past that the Bulletin publish a column more or less clothed in wonderful English with a flowing and elegant style intended to arouse the dormant minds of the students to the fact that there was some team or other which needed to be cheered. This is commonly known as an appeal to college spirit, among the editors. Due to unknown reasons, however, there exists in Cornell at present a large amount of enthusiasm and spirit among the girls which is the envy of many other colleges and must be congratulated and encouraged. One result of this college spirit is the large number of baseball and crew candidates which far exceeds that of other years. We sincerely congratulate the girls and wish to encourage the spread of this loyalty to athletics.

The following girls have won the distinction of being elected to Phi Beta Kappa. The Bulletin extends sincere congratulations to these and hopes that the underclass men will try to have as long a list in theirs.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT.

The tea dance held on Saturday afternoon was a huge success. About $85. was cleared. The tea dances seem to be as popular as last year and we hope there will be more in the future.

As a result of the nominations for Sage House President the following girls received the highest number of votes.

Virginia Phipps	E. Churchyard
Ruth Conklin	H. Van Ness
Elizabeth Reigart	D. Balliet

The elections will be held at 1-2 at Sage, Risley Hall and Com.Econ today.

Remember there will be no gymnasium classes next Wednesday afternoon, April 4th. That period must be made up either before or after vacation.

DRAMATIC

Every one who saw the plays given by the Women's Dramatic Club, on Friday will agree that they were very well acted. Great credit is due to the able coaching of Gladys Bloiman and Dagmar Schmidt.

The one act plays given by the Cornell Dramatic Club in the Campus Theater alias Goldwin Smith were very well received. The acting in "Cathleen in Heallihar" was especially good. The plays will be repeated tonight at 8:15 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the casts or at the door.
