EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

O'Malley '91 Senior Banquet Speaker.

The senior banquet of the class of 1909 will be conducted on a different plan from senior banquets in recent years. Distinguished men will be asked to become the guests of the class on that evening. Edward R. O'Malley '91, Attorney General of the State of New York, has accepted an invitation to be present, and he will be the principal speaker. The rest of the toast list will be announced in a few days. In his address at the reopening of the University last fall President Schurman said that the senior banquet must be "mended or ended," and the present committee is evidently determined to put a stop to the custom that has made the senior banquet a boisterous affair. The banquet will be held at the Ithaca Hotel on Thursday evening, May 13. The committee consists of W. L. Todd, chairman; C. F. Baumhofer, L. G. Bennett, S. E. Blunt, P. H. Cornwall, C. A. Faucher, C. M. French, Lewis Henry, W. S. Keenholts, jr., J. G. McCollum, G. J. Requardt, G. H. Walder and R. E. Coulson, ex-officio.

Arts Men Reject Honor System.

Students of the College of Arts and Sciences have refused to adopt an "honor system" which was devised by a committee of the Association of the Men of the College of Arts and Sciences. At a meeting held in the amphitheater of Goldwin Smith Hall last Wednesday, at which about 200 undergraduates were present, the report of the committee was rejected by an overwhelming vote. To make it clear that they were rejecting merely the system that had been proposed and not the principle of honesty in examinations, those present then passed by unanimous vote a resolution, offered by H. N. Wilson '10, reciting "that it is the sense of the members of the College of Arts and Sciences that unfairness in examinations or tests of any kind given either to any member of said college within its own confines or to members of the College of Arts and Sciences in other colleges of the University be disapproved of."

The committee that drew up the proposed "honor system" was composed of F. A. Rice '09, chairman; D. C. Price '09, M. Elser, jr. '10, H. N. Wilson '10 and W. L. Todd, president of the Arts association, ex-officio. It was not so much an honor system as a student police system, under the control of a committee to be composed of representatives of the four classes. There were to be three seniors, three juniors, one sophomore and one freshman on this committee, and one of the seniors and one of the juniors were to be selected by the women of the college from their own number. For various reasons it seemed unlikely that such a plan would prove practicable in the Arts college.

A committee was appointed by President Todd to draw up a constitution for the Arts association, as follows: W. E. Caldwell '10, chairman; Stanton Griffis '10, M. V. Atwood '10, A. J. Whinery '10, C. H. Divine '11, and W. L. Todd, ex-officio. A tax of twenty-five cents each was levied on Arts men to meet a small deficit from the "Arts feed" and to equip the Arts baseball team.

Large Sibley Banquet.

The largest Sibley banquet ever held took place in the Armory on Saturday evening. Four hundred and fifty graduates and undergraduates of Sibley College were present. Walter C. Kerr '79 was toastmaster. The first speaker was Mr. Frank J. Sprague, who had come to Ithaca to speak at a meeting of the Cornell branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers on the preceding evening. Edward N. Trump '81 described the Sibley College of the seventies. He said that the young engineer should have a command of languages and should know something of business management. Professor Dugald C. Jackson '87, of the University of Wisconsin, also talked about former days at Cornell. He told how Professor Anthony took him to the Library and showed him the stacks containing books on engineering, as a hint to read and read much. Professor Jackson said it was the best tip he ever got. Director A. W. Smith delivered a short address. Music was furnished by a quartet from the Glee Club.

Minor Sports Finances.

An appeal to the student body for funds with which to complete its spring schedules has been made by the Minor Sports Association. This is not expected to be necessary every year, for the association has recently put itself on a sounder financial footing than in former years and is run more economically than it used to be. But at the same time it has taken in more branches of sport, some of which are not self-supporting, and its income during the present year has not equalled its expenses. It has been dependent wholly upon the sale of tickets at its own games and upon a revenue from Beebe Lake. The association feels that it is entitled to call upon the undergraduates for help because the minor athletic teams represent the undergraduates before the college world in the same way, if not to as large a degree, as the major teams do. It has not the resources in the way of large gate receipts that are enjoyed by the major sports organization.

Exhibition by L. A. Fuertes.

Beginning on April 28 and continuing for two weeks there will be an exhibition of paintings by Louis Agassiz Fuertes '97 in Goldwin Smith Hall. Except for a few landscapes and animals, the pictures are all of North American birds, and constitute the same collection that was recently exhibited at the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

YALE WINS IN 11TH INNING.

Final Score 4 to 3—Gable's Hit Brings In Three Runs In the Seventh Inning.

In a well played, hard-fought game of eleven innings, the 'varsity nine was defeated by the Yale team on Percy Field last Saturday. The final score was 4 to 3. Howes pitched for Cornell for seven innings, and Captain Caldwell then took his place.

Howes was not in the best of form. In his seven innings he allowed six hits and three bases on balls and struck out only one batter. In his four innings Caldwell allowed two hits and a single base on balls and struck out three men.

Yale also made a change of pitchers in the eighth inning. Van Vleck had been a puzzle to the Cornell batters till the seventh, when there were three hits and three runs. Merritt pitched the rest of the game and only twelve men faced him in the four innings.

The day was too cold for good baseball, a raw wind blowing across the field from the northwest. The attendance was about 3,000, and the spectators shivered in winter garments.

From the first inning to the eleventh the contest was exciting and the result was uncertain. Cornell almost had a run in the first inning. Ebeling reached third and Caldwell second with the aid of Yale errors, but Williams retired the side by striking out. Yale began her scoring in the fourth inning, getting one run as a result of clean singles by Philbin, Badger and Captain Murphy. Two more runs were scored by the Blue in the seventh inning as the result of hits by Murphy and Logan and an error by Rutherford, who failed to stop Logan's grounder to right field.

The Cornell men did not appear at all disheartened on coming to bat in the seventh with three runs against them. Williams led off with a liner to left field and Howard did likewise. The spectators forgot the cold when Van Vleck gave Fulton first base on balls, filling the bases, with none out. Williams was forced out at the home plate on Judson's bunt, but Judson was safe at first and still the bases were full with one out. At this point Gable was sent in to bat for Howes. This was Gable's first play on Percy Field this season, as he had been laid up with a sprained ankle received on the Southern trip. He signalized his advent by driving the ball across third base and almost to the fence, clearing the bases and tying the score. After this it was anybody's game till the eleventh inning, when Van Vleck reached second on a Cornell error, went to third while Murphy was being put out at the plate, and scored on Logan's sacrifice.

Cornell's batting showed improvement over previous games. The fielding was brilliant, on the whole, the two errors that were made coming at unfortunate times.

Gable is expected to be fully recovered from his injury by the end of the week, and he will probably be used in the box frequently from now on.

HOW IT WAS PLAYED.

First inning.—Philbin was out on an easy grounder to Howes, Badger struck out and Murphy flied out to Ebeling.

Magner struck out. Matchneer was safe on a slow bunt to right, but was thrown out at second when Ebeling hit to Logan. Badger, at second, tried to make a double play, but overthrew first base into the crowd. Ebeling ran home, but, under a ground rule, was sent back to second. Caldwell reached first because Philbin let the ball get past him on the third strike, and Ebeling went to third. Caldwell stole second. Williams struck out.

Second inning.—Van Vleck got a base on balls, but Howes caught him off first and Fulton put him out, Matchneer also assisting. Jefferson flied out to Caldwell. Logan got a base on balls, but was caught trying to steal second.

Howard struck out. Fulton and Judson were out on easy grounders to Van Vleck.

Third inning.—Mallory, Fels and Lippitt all died at first base on infield grounders.

Howes struck out, Magner fouled and Matchneer was thrown out at first by Logan.

Fourth inning.—Philbin singled. Badger hit to deep short and Philbin tried to reach third, but Magner was too quick and threw him out at that base. Badger stole second. Murphy drove a liner to center field, scoring Badger. Caldwell had thrown toward the plate, and Murphy tried to reach second on the play, but Howes caught the ball near the pitcher's box and threw it to second, heading off Murphy, who was finally put out by Matchneer. Van Vleck was out, Howes to Matchneer. One run.

Ebeling beat out a bunt but in sliding to first base he sprained his ankle and had to retire from the game. Matchneer took his place as a base runner, and Rutherford thereafter played his position in right field. Caldwell's sacrifice sent Matchneer to second, where he was left, as Williams and Howard both struck out.

Fifth inning.—Jefferson flied to Caldwell. Logan walked and stole second. Mallory was thrown out at first base by Fulton, and Fels fouled out to Williams.

Fulton waited for four balls. Judson sacrificed. Howes struck out. Magner lined the ball to left, but Logan jumped into the air and caught it.

Sixth inning.—Lippitt was out on a difficult pickup and throw to first by Howard. Philbin was safe on an infield hit, but was caught stealing second. Howard stopped Badger's fast grounder.

Matchneer, Rutherford and Caldwell were all out at first base.

Seventh inning.—Murphy hit to right field and went to second on Van Vleck's sacrifice. Jefferson hit to Fulton, who threw to third but failed to beat Murphy there, and Jefferson was safe at first. Jefferson stole second. Logan hit to right field, and Rutherford failed to stop the ball, allowing Murphy and Jefferson to score. Logan reached second, but was left there when Mallory and Fels both flied out to Magner. Two runs.

Williams hit to left field. Howard also singled to left. Fulton again waited for four wide ones and the bases were full with none out. Judson hit the ball a few feet from the plate and Philbin got it in time to force Williams out. Still the bases were full. Gable, who had been out of the game for two weeks with a sprained ankle, was sent in to bat for Howes. After two strikes had been called on him, he drove the ball far down the third base line, bringing in Howard, Fulton and Judson and tying the score. Gable himself limped to second base. He went to third on Magner's sacrifice, but was left there when Matchneer struck out. Three runs.

Eighth inning.—Caldwell took Howes's place in the box and Thompson went to center field. Lippitt and Philbin were out on infield grounders. Badger was safe on an infield hit, but Murphy struck out.

Merritt went into the box in place of Van Vleck, who went to right field. Rutherford was thrown out by Logan, Caldwell struck out and Williams fouled out to Philbin.

Ninth inning.—Van Vleck struck out. Jefferson hit to Magner, who fielded perfectly but could not get the ball to first ahead of the runner. Jefferson went to second on Logan's sacrifice. Mallory was out on a foul fly which Howard caught near the west bleacher.

Howard, Fulton and Judson were out on infield grounders.

Tenth inning.—Fels took his base on balls and went to second on a passed ball. Merritt tried to bunt after having two strikes called on him, and was declared out. Philbin and Badger were out at first base, leaving Fels at third.

Thompson struck out. Magner and Matchneer were thrown out at first.

Eleventh inning.—Murphy was hit by a pitched ball. Van Vleck bunted to Caldwell, who threw inaccurately to first, and Murphy went to third and Van Vleck to second. Jefferson hit to Magner, who threw Murphy out at the plate, Van Vleck going to third and Jefferson being safe at first on the fielder's choice. Logan bunted toward first base and was thrown out there by Caldwell. Matchneer threw quickly to Williams at the home plate to catch Van Vleck, but on a close decision the runner was declared safe. Mallory struck out. One run.

Rutherford struck out. Caldwell singled to left, but was caught trying to steal second. Williams struck out and the game was over.

CORNELL 4, F. AND M. O.

The Franklin and Marshall nine was defeated by a score of 4 to 0 on Percy Field last Thursday. Goodwillie pitched for the 'varsity and held the visitors to three hits—one in the first inning, one in the third and one in the fourth. In the last five innings, but for a slight delay by Jones in fielding a fast grounder from Bridenbaugh's bat in the fifth and Rhodes's failure to dodge a pitched ball in the sixth, the visitors would not have got a man to first base.

Cornell started the scoring in the sixth. Thompson drew a base on balls, and Matchneer's sacrifice sent him to second. Ebeling hit a fly to left field and Brenner dropped it. Thompson kept on past third and scored when Dietrich dropped Brenner's throw to the plate. On the same misplay Ebeling went to second. Caldwell hit to Derr, who threw him out at first, and Ebeling went to third. Lally brought him home with a pretty liner over second base. Howard flied out to Rhodes.

In Cornell's eighth inning two more runs were gathered. Matchneer bunted to Watt, who fumbled. Ebeling lined the ball to right field and Matchneer went to third. Caldwell hit to Derr, who threw Ebeling out at second, and Caldwell was safe at first on the fielder's choice. Caldwell stole second. Lally hit a grounder to Bridenbaugh, who threw to the plate to cut off Matchneer, but Dietrich dropped the ball and Matchneer's run counted. Caldwell stole home on the same misplay. Meanwhile Lally had gone to third. He tried to steal home, but was caught between bases by Dietrich. Howard reached first on a fumble by Bridenbaugh, and stole second, but Fulton flied out to center field. The summary:

LOCAL MEETINGS.

Cornell Day in Detroit.

The Cornell alumni of Detroit, had their annual dinner on Wednesday, April 14. In the afternoon a large number of Cornell men attended the opening game of the American League season at Bennett Park between the Detroit and Chicago teams. One might easily have imagined himself at Percy Field as sharp Cornell yells broke out from the Cornell section of one of the grand stands for Hugh Jennings '04, the popular manager of the Detroit team. It is said that Detroit's champion team owes much of its success to the Cornell "ginger" which Jennings has instilled into it.

After the game, the alumni gathered at the University Club for dinner and a reception to several guests, among whom were Mr. Willard Beahan '78, of Cleveland, candidate for alumni trustee Mr. Charles W. Watson '76, president of the Cleveland alumni association, and Hugh Jennings. After the dinner, the courses of which were intermingled with all the good old songs so well known to all old grads. and very many new ones better known by the younger grads, J. B. Nettleton, '86, president of the Detroit Alumni Association, introduced Heatley Green '01 as the toastmaster of the evening. The first speaker, Mr. Beahan, was greeted with cheers. He spoke on "The Broad-Minded Engineer." Mr. Wason told some interesting Cornell history, and W. P. Holliday '72 related some college experiences of the early days. Hugh Jennings told how Cornell yells spurred his Tigers on to victory over the Chicago White Sox, and Stanley Bates '11 spoke for the Detroit undergraduates.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, W. B. Stratton '88; vice-president, Heatley Green '01; secretary and treasurer, C. Frederic Heyerman '99.

Those present were: W. P. Holliday '72, Charles W. Wason '76, W. Beahan '78, J. B. Nettleton '86, W. B. Stratton '88, S. G. Barnes '92, F. O. Bates '92, M. M. Green '94, C. W. Gail '96, E. H. Bingham '96, S. G. Jenks '97, C. G. Edgar '97, C. F. Heyerman '99, Heatley Green '01, S. C. Root '01, C. F. Harvey '02, J. G. Utz '02, W. H. Fries '03, Hugh Jennings '04, M. Hartwig '05, C. P. Mr. Heyerman, the new secretary, requests that any Cornellian who visits Detroit or who goes there to locate will register with the secretary, as the alumni association may be able to give him material assistance. The secretary's office is at 22 McGraw Building.

Cornell Club of Hawaii.

The Cornell Club of Hawaii held an informal dinner and business meeting at the University Club in Honolulu on Saturday evening, April 3. Among those present were G. W. Smith, D. L. Van Dine, J. W. Gilmore, J. M. Young, W. J. MacNeil, J. E. Higgins, C. F. Peterson and C. J. Hunn.

Mr. D. L. Van Dine, our vice-president, has accepted a position in the Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, and leaves here on the army transport Sheridan for Washington. He has chosen his cyclone cellar in Texas, where he is to be stationed, and can be reached by addressing Box 208, Dallas, Texas. He handed in his resignation, which was duly accepted. J. W. Gilmore was elected to complete the present term.

The club has purchased one of the large panoramic pictures of the campus at Ithaca and has presented it, framed, to the University Club of Honolulu.

H. H. Brodie '85, of Hanapepe, and Henry J. Lyman '93, of Pahoehoe, Hawaii, were elected to membership.

CHESTER J. HUNN,

The meeting was in the nature of an informal smoker, and was the last gathering until next October. The Brooklyn alumni have had a good year under the leadership of the retiring president, Dr. John L. Moffat '73, and plans were made for a successful season under the new administration.

Southern Tier Dinner.

Cornell men to the number of sixty gathered on Saturday evening, April 17, at the Hotel Rathbun in Elmira for what was said to be the most enjoyable banquet ever given by the alumni association of the Southern Tier.

Stunts, jokes, interesting talks, good music and special numbers by the Cornell Glee Club made up a program that kept up interest from the time the first toast was drunk to Cornell to the singing of the "Evening Song" at the close.

After the dinner had been eaten and the roll call had been taken, C. B. Swartwood '97, the toastmaster, introduced the speakers of the evening. Among those who responded were: Professor R. C. H. Catterall, who spoke on "Cornell, Present, Past and Future;" J. T. McCollom '72, of Troy, Pa.; Judge George McCann '88, the Rev. Charles H. McKnight '91, John Bull '85, D. N. Heller '89, and Lewis Henry '09.

During the evening a short business session was held at which the following officers were elected for the Southern Tier Cornell Alumni Association:

A THOUSAND ATHLETES.

The necessity of completing the Alumni Field is becoming acute. According to an estimate made this week by one of the managers of athletic sports, fully one thousand Cornell undergraduates every day engage in one or another form of outdoor sport. This may seem incredible to the graduate of fifteen or even ten years ago, and he may wonder how room can be found for so many. This is the very question that the director of physical culture and the graduate manager of athletics are asking each other. There are two areas at present available—Percy Field and the University Playground—both of them together inadequate. There is really not room enough in Percy Field for the 'varsity baseball, track and lacrosse candidates to practice at one time, and on two afternoons a week, with baseball games in progress, the lacrosse and track men cannot get the use of the field at all till after five o'clock.

Some three hundred men, it is estimated, are out almost every afternoon for intercollege baseball—the series of contests among the several colleges of the University—and the eight acres of the University Playground provide scarcely enough room for them alone. The Playground was constructed as the first-fruit of the Alumni Field Fund, and by agreement between the Field Committee and the University Trustees it is open to all students of the University. It is under the control of the director of physical culture. With his consent, room has been found there for practice and even games by some of the 'varsity teams in the so-called minor sports, such as association football and lacrosse. The freshman baseball candidates, half a hundred or more of them, hardly know from day to day where they are to practice. Last Saturday the only place they could find to play their game with the Binghamton High School was on the Ithaca High School field. The 'varsity tennis courts in the northeast corner of the unfinished Alumni Field are all in use every afternoon.

These facts are enough to show that when the new fifty-acre field is in use it will be not for the good of a few but for the benefit of many. On the very campus as it is, it will be every afternoon in fall and spring the center of healthy undergraduate life. For the 'varsity teams its nearness to the University buildings and its spaciousness will be great advantages over Percy Field, cramped and distant as that enclosure is. And students of moderate or undeveloped athletic prowess, hundreds more of them than we can find room for now, will be attracted there. A new field is required, not for some imagined future need, but for a present and urgent need. The chairman of the Field Committee is George W. Bacon, and his address is 115 Broadway, New York.

Members of the junior class are getting a trial as cheer leaders at the baseball games. The election will be held in the fall.

ALUMNI ANNOUNCEMENTS.Chicago Dinner.

The Cornell University Association of Chicago will hold its Twenty-fifth Annual Dinner on Monday evening, May 3, at 7:30 p. m., at the University Club. All Cornell men are cordially invited. Tickets $3.50. Send in your acceptance as soon as possible to L. M. Viles, Secretary, 637 Railway Exchange Building, Chicago. This will be the first college banquet held in the new University Club building in Michigan avenue.

Cornell Smoker in New York,

As already announced, a Cornell Smoker will be given in the Astor Gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria on Friday evening, May 7, at nine o'clock.

A very attractive programme has been arranged. It will consist of musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, quartettes and solos, stories and stunts of various kinds, among them two burlesques by members of the Cornell Club. Other features will be added. Several members of the University Glee Club of New York will be present to help in the "swipe" singing.

Supper will be served about 10 o'clock, and other refreshments considered necessary at such functions will be distributed from time to time during the course of the evening.

Tickets are $2.00 each, and may be had for guests at the same price. Mail applications for tickets as soon as possible and make all checks payable to George H. Turner, Treasurer, 154 Nassau street.

The Smoker affords an unusual opportunity for Cornellians, old and young, in and about New York, to get together and enthuse. Everybody is expected to be present—from the oldest living graduate to the freshman who busted out in February. There is plenty of room for the crowd that will be on hand; all of your friends will be there, and you can't afford to miss it.

The Cornell Cosmopolitan Club, as executive member of the Association of Cosmopolitan Clubs, organized a chapter at the University of Pennsylvania on April 5.

THE TRUSTEESHIP.

Resolutions of the Cornell Alumni Association of the District of Columbia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23, 1909.—At the annual meeting of the Cornell Alumni Association of the District of Columbia, held on April 21, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Whereas, The Cornell Alumni Association of the District of Columbia have been and are opposed to the method of soliciting votes for candidates for Alumni Trustee through circularizing the Alumni, therefore be it

Resolved, that we take this opportunity of expressing our disapproval of the methods used to further the candidacy of Mr. Charles C. Dickinson, and be it further

Resolved, that the Secretary be directed to send copies of this resolution to Mr. Dickinson, to the Editor of the ALUMNI NEWS, with the request that it be published in the ALUMNI NEWS, and to each member of this Association.

ARCHIBALD T. BANNING, jr.,
Secretary.

Dr. Barringer's Nomination.

[The following paragraph is printed by request.—Editor.]

Dr. Barringer's nomination for the office of trustee has been endorsed almost unanimously by the Alumnae Clubs of Ithaca, Albany, Rochester and Philadelphia. This is gratifying to her supporters, who had ventured to nominate Dr. Barringer without first consulting her, and they are glad to find that this nomination, so surprising to Dr. Barringer, is so cordially welcome to her fellow alumnae.

Change in Navy Week Program.

A change has been made in the program for Navy Week. The joint concert of the Harvard and Cornell musical clubs will be held on Saturday evening, May 29, instead of the preceding evening. This change was made to accommodate the members of the Harvard clubs. On Friday evening, May 28, the Savage Club will give a show in the Lyceum theater, and the senior ball will be held later on the same evening.

REUNION REMINDERS.

Ninety-Four.

One week nearer and Ninety-Four falling into line. During the month of May the election for toastmaster for the greatest reunion dinner ever held in Ithaca will be held. Send your ballots before May 26 to E. E. Bogart, secretary, 166th street and Boston road, New York city. We are going to have a dinner agreeable to everybody. Hence the election. The hall has been rented, and is now being overhauled and redecored for the occasion—the largest and finest hall in Tompkins county. The caterers are getting together their choicest viands for the One Grand Eat. The accompanying entertainment is being perfected with a view of having the best and only the best. The ball game arrangements are nearing completion, except for the selections of the umpire. We are still debating this very important item with our prospective opponents, but we doubtless will come to a satisfactory agreement before Commencement Week.

As to the Pee-rade. Well, '94 is going to help to make it the greatest ever. We will still uphold our reputation and be the finest in the line. The costumes are now being made by one of New York's largest importing houses. The grand marshal of the '94 forces has a conference with his staff next week at which all the military details will be settled upon.

We are having great difficulty answering letters from '94 men all over the country inquiring for details. Such enthusiasm as is shown was never heard of before. Men, you must be patient. Try to wait until we give the word to start. Then start quick!!!

1904 Bulletin—Special Extra.

The funeral of Dull Care is scheduled for Ithaca on June 16. The cortege at the obsequies will be the great 1904 Tribe of El Cam-u-el, which includes some of our very best little trouble interrers. Burial will take place at Percy Cemetery. After Sheik Bourne has delivered a brief oration and after someone has told Bedouin Derr not to make so much noise, the musicians of the tribe will render the somewhat sacred hymn, "Never Trouble Trouble Until Tarbell Troubles You." Then the members of the tribe will quaff the juice of the pomegranate from the Iroquois groves, which latter is a free ad.

The committee wishes to ask a particular favor of the returning members of the Tribe and that is that they refrain from saying they think Jeffries can lick Johnson in the vicinity of the band.

Remember! And cursed be he who first cries "I hold enough."

1906.

1906, second call! You saw the first call. You have received a personal letter. Let me urge every one of you to interest a few others in the reunion.

Judging from the way the Secretary has been reminded by members of the class, 1906 ought to have one of the very best reunions this June.

Special costumes and special stunts, everything being prepared to make it mighty interesting for the old crowd.

Do not delay sending notice to the Secretary that you will surely be here. We must have orders for costumes within the next ten days.

Yours in 1906,

C. H. TUCK.

Columbia Wins at Lacrosse.

The lacrosse game scheduled to be played last Saturday against the Onondaga Indians was cancelled, and instead the team went to New York and met Columbia on the Crescent Athletic Club grounds at Bay Ridge. Columbia won, 5 goals to 3.

A stiff wind interfered somewhat with the work of the players, but the game started off with a rush. Tough of Columbia began the scoring on a shot close in to the net, and when Ackerman soon afterward followed with a pretty tally, the Columbia twelve appeared to be the superiors of the Cornellians. But the Red and White quickly rallied, and before the referee's whistle ended the half they had evened things up, Fries and Walbridge scoring two goals.

Again Tough began the scoring when he put Columbia in the lead a few seconds after play began in the second half. But the lead was not long maintained, Taylor of Cornell scoring on a pass from Fries, after the latter had carried the ball clear down the field. This ended the scoring for the Cornellians and play was thereafter in Cornell territory for the most part.

Lectures by J. E. Teeple '99.

The remaining lectures are given at the same hour of the day throughout the week with the exception of that on Friday, April 30, which will be delivered at 12 o'clock. Students specializing in chemistry are expected to attend all these lectures. To enable them to do so they will be excused from any classes that they may have at the hours above

Cornell Men in the Yale Camp.

The senior class of the Yale Forest School is now in camp on a tract of land at Doucette, Texas, belonging to the Thompson Brothers Lumber Company. Two of the Thompson brothers, Hoxie H. and Alexander H., are Cornell men, both members of the class of 1905. One of the professors in charge of the class is R. C. Bryant, a graduate of the Cornell College of Forestry of the class of 1900. There are four Cornell men in the class—A. W. DuBois '07, O. D. Ingall '07, H. L. Johnson '07, and John D. Coffman, formerly of the class of 1909. Georges de S. Canavarro, who spent a year at Cornell and then went to Minnesota for forestry, is also a member of the class.

The trip of the special train conducted by the College of Agriculture over the Ontario and Ogdensburg divisions of the New York Central Railroad during the Easter recess was very successful. Much local interest was shown along the route. The railroad company estimated that the total attendance at the lectures was about ten thousand. The party from the college numbered about twenty.

The Cornell Era announces the following elections for 1909-10: Editor-in-chief, H. N. Wilson '10, Dansville; managing editor, M. V. Atwood '10, Groton; business manager, L. W. Abbott '10, Hamburg; assistant business manager, H. T. Edwards '10, Patchogue. The new board begins work with the May issue.
